'Car condo' to sprout in Monterey

By GREG MIGLIORE

Plans for the Club Auto Sport-Monterey

Looking for a spot to store that vintage car the other 51 weeks of the year while you're preparing for the Pebble Beach Concours? A development dubbed a "car condo" is moving forward in Monterey, Calif., and is aiming to open by the end of 2009.

Called the Club Auto Sport-Monterey, it would have 67 condos ranging in size from 800 to 10,000 square feet for enthusiasts to store and work on their cars. Taking it a step further, developers are trying to foster a social atmosphere and plan to offer track days and tours for owners of the units.

Other services include fuel and oil recycling, maintenance and delivery of stored cars.

Noted enthusiast Gordon McCall, one of the men behind the Quail and other car events surrounding Pebble Beach, is moving part of his business to the site. He also is taking on the role of director of club services, meaning he'll set the social agenda for the owners.

Another car condo, Club Auto Sport-Silicon Valley, opened in May in San Jose and has sold about 50 percent of its spots.

We have these in Phoenix according to radio ads. I think this is a great idea since I have a carport rather than a garage and my neighbors think my immaculate Frogeye Sprite is an eyesore and a danger to stray dogs and small children.
